

Dr Sandro Matter

Swiss (born 1964)

Products Division

Sandro Matter earned a Master's degree in chemistry at the Swiss Federal Institute of Technology in Zurich, followed by a doctorate in materials sciences at the same institution. His business career began at Synthes-Stratec, where he was responsible for biomaterials product management and development from 1997 to 2002. He was a co-founder of Kuros Therapeutics.

He joined Straumann in 2002 as Head of the Biologics and Research Division and became Head of the Products Division in 2005. He was appointed to his current position at the end of 2006.